

NEW SALOON LAW BACKED BY LEAGUE

Good Government League to Present Ordinance Against Back Rooms

Within the next few weeks the Good Government League of this city will have a saloon ordinance drafted which will be presented to the city council. The council will be asked to pass the ordinance, which members of the league are now working on. This news leaked out from authentic sources last night.

There are several important provisions in the new liquor ordinance that the Good Government League will try to have passed. One of these provisions is the raising of the age limit from boys 18 years of age to 21. Other sections provide that there be no back doors or any private rooms in any of the saloons of the city.

The ordinance, if adopted, will gradually reduce the number of saloons now within the city limits. Another matter that the Good Government League is taking up in earnest is the eradication of all houses of ill fame from the city.

A committee from the organization interviewed Chief of Police Walker several days ago in an effort to ascertain his attitude and see what action he intends to take on the closing up of bawdy houses. A member of the league said last night that Walker stated he did not know what action he was going to take but that he would take the matter up with the Police Commission. Since the interview, nothing official has been said or done.

The Good Government League which holds weekly meetings, is rapidly gaining in membership. Men and women compose its membership.

The fish will also be given with other purchases of various articles.

TO CONTINUE WEEK SERVICES

Rev. P. E. Peterson, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced last night that after Easter he plans to resume special services on week nights in his church. He will be assisted in conducting the services by Rev. W. S. Matthews, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Rosa. Dr. Matthews is described as an eloquent, forceful speaker. The meetings that Rev. Peterson assisted Dr. Matthews in conducting at Santa Rosa during the past week were highly successful. Several hundred crowded into the church to hear the addresses every night.

During this week services will be held at the church on two nights. There will be a communion service on Thursday night, and on Friday night the Ladies' Aid Society will hold a missionary meeting.

WATSON MAKES HIS STATEMENT

Henry O. Watson, in formally announcing his candidacy for city councilman yesterday, declared that he knows what the burden of taxation is, "especially when paid out of a man's daily earnings." He declares that if he is elected he will discharge his duties without fear or favor, faithfully and honorably.

Watson has lived in Richmond for a number of years. He is an employee of the Standard Oil Company. Mrs. J. Spire, Mrs. Roy Wells and Mrs. Marie McNeil were the winners of the prizes at the whist party held in Pythian Castle Friday night by the members of Royal Neighbors Camp.

Both Vehicles Partly Wrecked;
Of Four Passengers None
Is Hurt.

A jitney bus, driven by E. L. Davis, 243 Sixth street, last night collided with a laundry wagon driven by R. E. Redmond on Ashland avenue, near Macdonald.

Though the jitney had four passengers, all escaped injury. A front wheel of the auto was broken and the fender smashed. The wagon was partially wrecked.

Davis declared that the accident would not have happened had the wagon driven been on the right side of the street.

R. F. Silva of Pinole, F. M. Van Ness, 401 Tenth street; John Coleman, 27 Washington avenue; and Ohryn, 27 Washington avenue, were in the jitney bus at the time of the accident.

KENNETH JOHNSON IS RECOVERING

Kenneth Johnson, local youth, who is serving a six-year sentence in San Quentin prison for a statutory offense, is rapidly improving from the effects of an operation for an abscess behind his right ear, performed by the prison doctor several days ago according to word received in Richmond, last night from the prison. There is every reason to believe that the boy's permanent recovery from his illness is not far distant.

Rev. P. E. Peterson, who is one of those interested in the movement to effect Johnson's pardon, asserted last night that the petition will be presented to Governor Hiram Johnson for action one day this week. Peterson proposes to circulate the petition on Monday. He stated he expects to get the signatures of District Attorney Thomas D. Johnston and Superior Judge Letimer on the official plea for clemency.

SUE CAR CO. FOR $19,603 DAMAGES

Local Teamster Wants Oakland
Traction to Reimburse Him for Injuries

D. B. Barnhart, a Richmond teamster, residing at 215 Twelfth street, filed suit in the Superior Court at Martinez yesterday, asking that he be given damages to the extent of $19,603 from the San Francisco-Oakland Traction Railway Company for injuries he received when a wagon he was driving was struck by a street car at the corner of Thirteenth and Macdonald on September 18, 1914.

It is alleged in the complaint that Barnhart received severe and permanent injuries, as a result of the carelessness of the car company. The owner of the car that struck Barnhart's wagon was Conductor J. Leber and Motorman De Long.

When the car hit the wagon the plaintiff was thrown from his seat on the wagon and his body was pinned between the wagon and the car. He was removed to the Craven hospital, where he was in a critical condition for several days.

Barnhart was formerly in the employ of Contractor C. W. McMaster.

Superior Judge McKensie issued a restraining order prohibiting the sale of property until April 6. Arguments on the merits of the case will come up later.

DECIDES NOT TO PASS THE BUCK

Assembly Committee to Make Recommendation One Way or Other Tomorrow.

SACRAMENTO, March 27.—The Assembly Labor and Capital Committee has decided that it will not "pass the buck" to the governor on the state free labor exchange by passing out two bills, one providing for the supervision of the labor commissioner and the other the Immigration and Housing Commission.

From the action taken it will be definitely determined by the committee to recommend, or at least attempt to recommend, one bill and get behind that bill, whether it is in the form of one of the measures presented, or is a combination of the two, whipped into shape by a special sub-committee.

These labor exchange bills and labor employment agency bills were taken up on a special order. The first seeks to create labor exchanges, placing the operation of the state exchange in the hands of the State Immigration and Housing Commission, while the other seeks to create free labor bureaus under the administration and control of the State Labor Bureau.

The committee instructed its sub-committee, consisting of Assemblymen T. M. Wright, M. B. Browne and George W. Salisbury, to take the bills and between now and Monday go through them, returning to the main committee with recommendations for action.

While no plan was decided upon definitely, a majority of the members were in favor of binding the committee to take the recommendation and send them to the floor of the House in the form of a bill with the backing of a "do pass" designation.

PEACE—VIA "GO-CANNY."

War Minister Lord Kitchener is having the dickens of a time trying to persuade the British workingmen to be reasonable. The rank and file of the big English unions, you know, have proved themselves very poor patriots.

When asked to do extra work, to work at top speed, to supply the necessities of war, those workingmen have demanded higher wages.

Isn't that disgusting?

Lord Kitchener and the British government want the workers to "work with greater efficiency." There are some unsettled strikes in Great Britain. But that isn't the cause of most of the worry of the war party. The men that are working are taking their time on the job.

Threats are being made that unless the workingmen abandon this despicable attitude drastic action will be taken by the government.

From what we can learn in the dispatches those threats are not being seriously considered by the men.

In addition to the refusal to work themselves half to death so as to keep the war going, the workers seem to know that the government can make a lot of threats and little more.

Go-canny exists in Great Britain. Go-canny, or acanny, is a system whereby men go slowly on a job while apparently working at top speed.

It is apparent to anyone that imprisonment won't help matters. To imprison workingmen isn't good business when workingmen are in demand.

Martial law can't do anything. The government might put as many soldiers as could be mobilized on every job and the work wouldn't be speeded up noticeably.

The cost of living in Great Britain has gone up 20 per cent. The government is desperately in need of every dollar it can get to continue the war. Ammunition is needed.

The workingmen continue the "go-canny."

What's the answer?

The entering wedge for peace. A little go-canny in France, Germany, England, Russia and why not?—a little in the trenches, might, after all, point the way to real peace.

AT THE LEGISLATURE.

The general attitude of the Chamber of Commerce upon labor bills was clearly illustrated when the Assembly Committee on Public Health and Quarantine had under consideration the new draft of a labor camp inspection law. The proponents of the bill had explained the essential features of the measure and everybody in the committee room seemed to be perfectly satisfied that this was legislation along the right lines. The chairman then asked if there was any opposition. At this stage the representative of the Chamber of Commerce announced that this particular bill was on the list of measures disapproved by the Chamber of Commerce. He did not seem to be in a position to present a valid argument against the bill, but just voiced his general opposition.

Needless to state, the bill was reported out by unanimous vote with the recommendation that it "do pass." The Ford and Suhr episode has had its effect.

For a number of years the extreme Southern Senatorial District was represented by Senator Wright, one of the leading reactionaries in the state. The extreme Northern District was, on the other hand, for years represented by Senator Shanahan, one of the ablest and biggest men in the state.

The last election, however, seems to have reversed things. Senator Luce, from the extreme south, is undoubtedly one of the most progressive and fearless members of the present Senate, while Senator Shearer, who succeeded Shanahan, is easily placed in among the most reactionary half dozen in the present Legislature.

There was a time when Democrats in the California Legislature were a power and wielded an influence that had to be reckoned with, even though their numerical strength was a negligible factor. But times have changed. At this session of the Legislature many reactionary measures are fathered by Democrats. Senator Owens is the champion of the convict labor bill and one or two other anti-labor bills. Senator Campbell would even re-establish the unjust poll tax just abolished by a referendum vote of all the people. Can it be possible that Senator Campbell is unable to make a distinction between a tax on life and a tax on property? Or is he afraid that the propertyless class in California is becoming too affluent?

CAPTAIN SWIFT AT THE POINT

"Captain Swift," a drama in five parts, produced by the Life Photo Film Co., will be the attraction at the Point theater, home of first run pictures.

The plot of the drama is intensely interesting. The hero is Harold Gage, an English boy, raised by foster parents. He leaves them and goes to Australia as a stowaway. In Australia he becomes a bush ranger and wins the name of Captain Swift. After robbing a bank, he determines to reform. His reformation, his love story and his final meeting with his foster brother are all thrillingly portrayed.

Editor Daily News:

Truly, the fools are not all dead yet.

I read in some paper that the same old agitation about Richmond Beautiful is looming up again.

I wonder if this self-appointed committee ever thinks of anybody's interest but his own. I suppose they know, if they were to let the people of the city decide what to do, this committee would think twice before springing any such rot. Of course Richmond needs beautifying and needs it badly, but not by a petty law making which this committee seems to have in mind.

The small property owners, who are the great majority, are well satisfied to leave the looks of the city as they are for the present, without having any fringes added.

I am sure they will resent, and rightly so, if any more burden is added. They are heavy enough now. This committee, I believe, has never done anything in the interest of the city. They are like the boosters in general, always looking for some one else to do things. To do things means actual work. It seems reasonable that they will expect others to do that and this committee will have nothing else to do but wait for the glory.

The streets, of course, do not belong to the small home owners. All the privileges allowed to them is to pay for the improvement of the same.

If this committee is honest and wants to do something for Richmond, we, the small fries, would like to see them get busy and show us a good example.

A man I know well landed in Richmond more than nine years ago with forty years' hard earned savings. Nine years ago his taxes were 87 cents; in 1914 they were $49.75, not including a few special assessments of $10 each. Some encouragement, isn't it? He has never seen the day yet when he could realize enough on his property to cover the investments. But he has the satisfaction of doing his mite for the upbuilding of Richmond, although he may be the poorer by so doing.

Now, I would call him a real, genuine booster, not a hot air bag, those who whoop and yell at every cross roads. That species are rank fakers of the worst kind.

A BOOSTER.

OLYMPIC CLUB OR ST. MARY'S NEXT SUNDAY

Manager Bill Luce announced last night that the Elks will play either the Olympic Club team or the first team of St. Mary's College on the local lot next Sunday. The differences existing between Luce and the St. Mary's management have been patched up, and if the Olympic team plays on the local lot Sunday, a game with St. Mary's College will be arranged for later.

Joe Tobin has a strong booster in "Cutey" Cunningham. Cunningham says "My Boy Joe" will get to the top of the baseball ladder yet. Young fellows did not get much of a chance to grab a position on the San Francisco club this year.

Before he will be in mid-season form, Gordon thinks he will have to tear off seven or eight pounds of surplus weight. The star left hander should have a good season. He's got all the stuff he needs against those clubs he will perform against.

Jimmy Hordan is a busy man these days. He is scheduled to catch two games at the same time today. The Olympics announce that he will do the receiving for them against the Elks while Louis Lowenberg expects him to receive for his bunch against Martinez.

"Captain Swift"

POINT THEATRE - TONIGHT

In order to avoid exposure attendant upon the birth of Harold Gage, the fatherless son of Constance, he is placed under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, who are paid to rear the boy as their own, cautioned against revealing to him or the outside world his true identity.

Mrs. Marshall's real son, acquainted with the doubtful parentage of Harold, taunts him; the two engage in a boy's fight, Harold being severely cut on his left arm, the wound leaving an ugly scar.

The lad, sensitive of the treatment of his foster brother, finally migrates to Australia, where he becomes a bush-ranger.

Because of the rapidity of his operations and his ability to escape detection and arrest, receives the sobriquet of "Capt. Swift."

He is a man of strong mentality and indomitable courage, but without possessing a sense of honor and a generous heart.

He attempts to hold up a traveler, George Gardner, who is willing to suffer death rather than part with his gold. "Capt. Swift," hesitating to take human life, compels him to alight and ride away with the wayfarer's mount.

Swift, after having robbed the Queensland Bank, suffers remorse and determines to reform.

Under the name of William Wilding, being the name of his companion in Australia, who died of starvation and thirst on the desert, he returns to London, where, at an opportune moment, he saves James Seabrook, whose life is in jeopardy by reason of a runaway horse.

"Capt. Swift," invited by Seabrook to his home, there meets Mrs. Seabrook, their daughter Mabel and their niece Stella Darbishier.

Harry Seabrook, brother of Mabel, a whole hearted but impetuous young man, takes immediate dislike to Swift, whereas Stella Darbishier becomes strongly attached to him.

Marshall, the foster brother of Swift, is now employed as butler in the home of the Seabrooks.

At a gathering, the conversation is directed toward the escapades of one "Capt. Swift" in Australia, whose name had become a household word throughout England.

In the course of conversation, George Gardner, who is a friend of the Seabrooks, having returned from Australia, calls at their home, and there identifies Wilding as the notorious "Capt. Swift," and is in turn recognized by Swift, but his identity is not revealed to others.

Mrs. Seabrook recognizes a strong similarity between the man Swift, and her boy, given away in adoption to the Marshalls. Her fears are later justified, when at a dramatic and tense moment she proves the fact to him.

Swift, however, in order not to stigmatize his mother, determines to leave the household of the Seabrooks.

Stella Darbishier's infatuation for Swift has progressed to such a point as to cause a strong reciprocal feeling on his part for the girl.

The rivalry of Harry Seabrook for the hand of Stella causes a violent quarrel between him and Swift, the consequences of which are avoided by the timely intervention of Gardner.

Marshall, eavesdropping during a conversation between Swift and his mother, Mrs. Seabrook, learns of the identity of Swift, and further proves it by a scar on Swift's arm, the result of the wound inflicted by Marshall when the two were boys.

With his knowledge, Marshall attempts to blackmail Swift, and being repulsed, acquaints the police with his whereabouts.

A detective from Australia has arrived in London to apprehend Swift, having traced his movements to that place.

Gardner, strongly admiring the manhood of Swift, determining if possible, to save him, warns him. Swift, cornered in the home of his mother, rather than suffer arrest, together with the attendant exposure, and the possible revelation of his real identity, and to save the girl he loves and his mother the disgrace that would necessarily follow, jumps out of a window, knowing that the possibility of escape is meager.

Marshall, working in league with the detective, is hidden in the shrubbery, and seeing Swift, fires, mortally wounding him, at the same moment that the detective from a window above shoots, the cross shot which strikes Marshall, putting an end to him. The denouement ends without the identity of Capt. Swift being revealed to the others.

LABOR NOTES

LABOR BILL AIMED AT SOU. PAC. PASSES

The discrimination of employers against their employees who wish to become aspirants for public office is forbidden under the terms of Senate bill 489, by Finn, passed by the Senate late yesterday afternoon.

Senator Ballard led the opposition to it. The vote was divided, but the measure went through, 25 to 7. As amended the bill applies only to those employers who have a force of more than 20 men.

The measure is directed at the S. P. Co., which is said to have a rule forbidding employees the privilege of running for political office under penalty of loss of position.

DESPITE WAR LORD STRIKES CONTINUE

LONDON, March 27.—Despite Lord Kitchener's warning and the agreements between the government and the trades unions that strikes should cease, stoppages of work continue.

Though the number of men involved is small, fears are expressed that the dissatisfaction may spread and the government be driven to adopt drastic measures to increase industrial production.

Petaluma will start the season next Sunday. Manager Healy went to the St. Mary's College team to journey to his city for the opener, but the college lads were already dated, and could not see the date. Healy is now making arrangements for the appearance of some fast gang to give his bunch the first tryout of the season. Elaborate opening game ceremonies are planned in Petaluma. The mayor of the chicken village will try to hop the first ball in there, and the brass band of the Sonoma county town will be brought into action during the day.

On and after Monday, March 22, 1915, the Twenty-third St. Grocery will issue Home Trading Stamps. 51-4t E. HAND.

PRES. GOMPERS TO HEAD OFF BIG B. T. STRIKE IN CHICAGO, REPORT

CHICAGO, March 27.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Thos. Williams, head of the Building Trades Department of that organization, attended a conference of union labor leaders here in an effort to bring peace between warring factions and prevent a threatened tie-up of building operations in Chicago May 1, when a number of agreements with contractors will expire.

The threatened tie-up would affect more than 100,000 workmen in 24 trades. The lathers and plasterers already are on strike.

The dispute grows out of the opposition of a faction of the Lathers' Union to a uniform arbitration agreement proposed by the Chicago Building Trades Council.

Gompers urged peace and at his suggestion a committee of ten, five from each side, was named in an effort to settle the dispute.

LABOR AMENDMENTS TO ACCIDENT LAW ARE NOT REPORTED ON

The Benson bill to make certain changes in the workmen's compensation law, favored by the Industrial Accident Board, has been reported to the Senate without amendments suggested by organized labor.

One of these suggested amendments would reduce the "waiting period" from two weeks to one. The "waiting period" is the time during which the injured employee does not secure compensation. The other amendment suggested by labor would allow the injured to select his own physician.

Senator Luce is going to make a fight for these two amendments on the floor of the Senate. Will J. French, one of the members of the board, reported in favor of them, but the other two members, Weinstein and Pittsburg, were against them.

The principal change in the law made by the bill reported back to the Senate is one which would allow workmen compensation for injuries sustained from occupational diseases.

WEEKLY SAYS OGBORN IS A "PIPE"

A large gathering of organized workmen held an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night in Polytechnic Hall and unanimously endorsed three candidates for councilmen, as follows:

J. B. Ogborn,
T. O. Carman,
James Snee.

J. B. Ogborn, while not a card man, is in sympathy with organized labor. He received the unanimous endorsement of the big meeting. Those who are acquainted with the political situation in Richmond say that Ogborn has a "pipe." He is a strong candidate, and with his previous experience and familiarity with municipal affairs in Richmond will make a good public servant.

T. O. Carman is experienced in civic affairs, having served as city commissioner in an Eastern state.

James Snee is also experienced in municipal affairs, having served six years as councilman in Wilkesbarre, Pa. He is prominent in the local Clerk's Union.

James Kennedy, the well known and popular potter, presided over the meeting, and made a speech that was forceful and well received.

There are many other candidates in the race, it is said, but have not so far officially announced their candidacies.—Terminal.

RAIN PREVENTS SCHEDULED GAME

Because of the bad condition of the first street grounds, owing to the heavy rain of Friday and yesterday, the scheduled game for today between the Elks and the Olympic Club has been called off. "Wise" Mettles will not get his chance to show up the heavy hitting bunch that

Bart Burke banded together to clean Richmond with. There is every reason to believe that the Elks and the Olympics will tangle later in the season. Two teams that are as fast as those two cannot stay apart for long. We'll have to chalk up a bobble against Mister Rain Man.

VALLEJO BOXERS HEADING FOR NEV.

(Vallejo Tribune.) The boxing game in Nevada is getting good. Word was received here that Willie Meehan, formerly of San Francisco, who at one time fought in Vallejo, and was unanimously voted a bum for the unsportsmanlike tactics he displayed in his bout with Grande, and the poor exhibition of boxing he put up, has boxed ten rounds in the Divorce Court City and received $500 for his services.

A letter from Grande in Philadelphia indicates that the former Vallejo man was contemplating a trip to Reno, as things look better to him there than they do in the Quaker City. Grande takes the same about Nevada as the Vallejo boxers who have already announced their intention of going. Reno is "wide open" and seems to be the only place of any consequence in the United States where the old game is not fettered by Philadelphia legislation.

Driscoll and Kirk are already there and Young Attell and "Jockey" Davidson are now contemplating making the trip.

No one in Vallejo has yet announced an intention of starting the four round game here, although the chances appear to be good for the reason that all of the men who formerly made their bread and butter through their fighting ability, are looking elsewhere for a place to display their talents.

SPORTING GOULASH

THIS JUVENILE WRITER WAS CONTRIBUTING BEANS OF BASEBALL STUFF, SUCH AS IT WAS, TO UNSUSPECTING READERS WHEN ANOTHER SPORTS MAN OF THE CITY WAS HAVING A FOUR-ROUND BOUT WITH THE CRADLE.

Having heard from reliable sources that Manager Nevis of the St. Mary's team is peevish at what was said in these columns about the St. Mary's team, we hereby warn Mister Nevis that when he comes in the front way we will go out the back way. He won't be able to find us, either, until we can arrange to have a couple of troops of cavalry on the scene.

There are to be some shifts on the local team before the month of April draws to a close, but Bill Luce is a little mouthed about them.

Every Time He Hit He Raised

One leaked out on "Grandpa" Healy, manager of the Petaluma Chickens, that is too good to keep.

During the past week Healy made his appearance at St. Mary's College with the avowed intention of signing up "Lovely Lou" Gusto. Healy arrived at the college just prior to the starting of a game.

He sat on the bench with the St. Mary's boys. When he got Gusto's car, he offered the big Bulgarian a five spot, and a business for every game he would play on first for Petaluma.

Gusto smiled, and made no answer. Finally it came his turn to go to bat. Gusto cracked out a stinging single, and later scored a run. When he got back to the bench Healy offered "Lovely Lou" $7.50 a game and expenses.

Gusto did not consider the offer, and the game went on for several innings. On his second trip to the plate he cracked out another hit. Then Healy offered him $10 a game. Gusto still refused to talk terms.

The third time Gusto came up he batted out a two-run homer. Healy raised himself $25.00 more and offered to give the native son of Napa $12.50 a game and expenses.

Gusto did not get up for the fourth time. If he had five or six more chances at bat, and had got five or six more hits he probably would be able to get into Grandpa Healy for about $100 a game.

After the game Healy and Gusto had a talk the outcome of which has not been made public.

PAWSON UMPIRE IN MARTINEZ TODAY

"Doc" Rawson, who in the former days wielded the mighty willow with telling effect and who did much to establish the alleged reputation of Martinez as a baseball town, has been selected to hold the indicator this season in the numerous games in which Martinez will play.

"Doc" needs no introduction to the fans. Having played and studied the game for many years, and being an arbitrator who once he decides refuses to back down, he promises to make a decided impression with the fans during the year.

His selection will meet with approval and he will be seen today in the opener between McNamara's Colts and Wieland's Independents of San Francisco.

It looks as though "Lovely Lou" Gusto, the hard hitting first baseman of the St. Mary's College team, will don a Petaluma uniform this year. Luce is contemplating adding a couple of more good men to his pitching staff.

Time weather for the last of March. What do you say? Drink Hornbeck's pure apple cider. 46-1m

WINEHAVEN AND MACCABEES TO CLASH

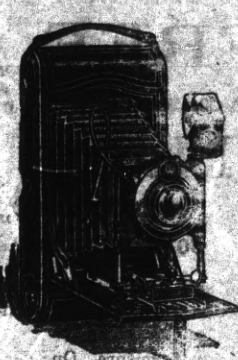

If it does not rain this afternoon Winehaven will play its scheduled game with the fast Maccabee team of Berkeley. The battle will take place on the San Pablo grounds. Unless it rains just when the game is to be called, the recent wet weather will hurt nothing, as the moisture seeps in on the suburban diamond in a short time. Winehaven has played three games so far this season. In two of the games the locals have been forced to take the short end of the score. If the Calvas beat the Berkeley aggregation today, they will climb up to 500 per cent.

Finkerton has announced that he will start on the mound. "Penny" Thurber will be in uniform, and he will be used if Finkerton is not satisfied with the way he looks up on the mound.

Moss will catch for Winehaven.

We are glad that other sporting editors read our paper. Fong Lee, the Chinese chess king, now states that he is seriously contemplating the starting of a series of stories dealing with the advantages that fan can have over baseball as a national pastime.
